On the Personal Injury Mastermind w/ Chris Dreyer podcast, Scherr shared why specialization can achieve justice in catastrophic trucking cases and why collaboration within the plaintiff's bar ultimately benefits injured clients. Rather than treating trucking litigation as simply another personal injury practice area, she argues that deep expertise leads to stronger results, safer roads, and greater accountability throughout the commercial trucking industry.

The strategies she discussed include:

- Investigating trucking companies immediately, before critical evidence disappears.
- Identifying additional insurance policies, brokers, manufacturers, and other responsible parties that may dramatically increase case value.
- Understanding how product defects—including underride protection and crash-avoidance systems—can fundamentally change the direction of a case.
- Building specialized litigation teams with experienced investigators, experts, and trucking-focused professionals from the outset.

Licensed in Texas, New Mexico and Illinois, Maxey M. Scherr ensures her clients get the respect they deserve when a trucking accident or brain injury affects their lives physically, emotionally, and financially. Scherr is Board Certified and serves on numerous boards specializing in the areas of trucking law and brain injury. In addition to her doctorate from Texas Tech School of Law, Scherr also possesses a Psychology degree from the University of Massachusetts-Boston and undertook postgraduate coursework in Neuroscience at Harvard University.
